ARTICLE 1 - BACKGROUND

The Holy Spirit University (hereafter referred to as “USEK”) was founded in 1938 as an independent private catholic institution, by the Lebanese Maronite Order (hereafter referred to as the “OLM”) who serves Higher education in monasteries since the 18th century.

Since the 1980s, the higher authorities of the OLM have been working towards the establishment of a School of Medicine and Medical Sciences at USEK, thus consolidating a three-hundred-year-old tradition of deeply rooted commitment to the Lebanese society.

In April 2001, the Lebanese government authorized USEK, under the decree number 5294, to establish a School of Medicine and Medical Sciences (hereafter referred to as “SMMS”).

The SMMS launched the 7-year Medical Doctor program in August 2002 and students were admitted in this program for the academic year 2002-2003.

In September 2005, the SMMS signed an agreement with the Hôpital Notre-Dame des Secours (founded by the OLM in 1978) for the clinical training of its students. The hospital is henceforth recognized as a University Hospital by the Ministry of Public Health, and was renamed Centre Hospitalier Universitaire Notre-Dame des Secours (hereafter referred to as CHU-NDS).

In 2008-2009, the SMMS established residency programs with the collaboration of the School of Medicine of the University of Sherbrook in Canada.

In July 2009, the first cohort of MD graduates participated in the USEK’s Commencement Ceremony.

In July 2009, the SMMS launched the residency programs and Medical Doctor graduates were admitted in eight (8) different specializations. Since, the number of residency programs has increased up to twenty-five (25).

The SMMS expanded the clinical training grounds of its students by signing agreements with specialized national university hospitals (Hospital de la Croix - 2011, Eye and Ear Hospital - 2011, National Institute of Pathologies - 2012) and many national affiliated hospitals and dispensaries.

In 2010, the SMMS Council reviewed the curriculum of the diploma in medicine and made major changes to its structure and courses contents. The 7-year program was divided into 2 programs: The Bachelor of Science in Fundamental Health Sciences (3-year program) and the Doctorate in Medicine (4-year program). However, admission to the Doctorate in Medicine was restricted to SMMS bachelor graduates. The implementation of the new curriculum required the restructuring of the departments within the SMMS.
In 2010 the OLM higher authorities decided the construction of a new building for the SMMS near the CHU-NDS in Jbeil. The construction was completed in 2016 and the inauguration is planned for the academic year 2017-2018.

In 2014, the SMMS established a Training Centre on Gastroenterology, Urology, and Laparoscopic Surgery in collaboration with G-MEA.

In 2017, the SMMS council reviewed the admission policy and a new admission track to the Doctorate in Medicine program was created to admit graduates of Science programs who passed the MCAT exam.

Since 2003, the School has entered into agreements with European and North American universities for the purpose of collaborating on exchanges of teachers, students and the establishment of joint research projects.
