

JOSEPH RIZKALLAH

Joseph is an archivist at the Phoenix Center for Lebanese Studies at USEK. He was a monk for five years, and had been studying the Syriac language for over 15 years. He has taught Syriac in the Tamich Monastery and at USEK. Holder of a Bachelor of Arts in History, he is currently working on his thesis. He describes himself as a dedicated archivist with experience in research analysis and appraisal of historical documents, particularly in Syriac.