AJYAL, AN OVERVIEW

The “Lebanese Heritage Education Program,” also known as “AJYAL,” is an activity-based academic initiative by the Holy Spirit University of Kaslik (USEK). The program focuses on introducing Lebanese culture and heritage to young Lebanese individuals aged between 7 and 17. It targets those living in different parts of the world where the Lebanese expansion has flourished and thrived.

AJYAL is a celebration of all things that make us and our history so unique.

Interactive and engaging activities form a crucial part of this initiative, aiming to leave a lasting impact and transcend space and time.

AJYAL MISSION

- Cultivating a deep connection with Lebanese heritage among the youth living abroad.
- Encouraging cross-generational cultural dialogue and appreciation.
- Driving engagement through interactive and educational activities.
- Driving awareness about Lebanese heritage through its cultural contributions.

FOCUS AREAS

AJYAL seeks to be a catalyst for a profound sense and pride in our:

Heritage

History

Folklore and Mythology
